WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1878.

ELECTION RETURNS.

NEW YORK.

GREAT REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

Senator Conkling Sure of Re-Election.

TAMMANY DEFEATED IN THE CITY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5, 8 o'clock.

Two hundred and ten districts in this city give Cooper 8321 majority. His majority is likely to reach 14,000.

"BEATEN ALL ALONG THE LINE."

Kelly has just made a speech in Tammany Hall, saying: "We are beaten all along the line."

THE ASSEMBLY.

The Sun's figures make the Assembly stand 87 Republicans to 41 all others, but quite a number of the national candidates affiliating with the Republicans are doubtless included in this estimate. The result at least renders sure the re-election of Senator Conkling.

The Tribune claims 80 Republicans to 31 straight Democrats, and five Workingmen and Greenbackers, a Republican majority of 50, and on a joint ballot of 58.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Butler Buried Beneath 20,000 Plurality.

BUT LEADS IN CULTURED BOSTON.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.

One hundred and seventy towns, including Boston, give Talbot a majority over Butler of 13,340, and Talbot's election by a plurality of 20,000 is conceded. The indications are now that Morse, Democrat, is elected to Congress from the Fourth District. W. A. Field, Republican, is said to be elected to Congress from the Third District by 300 majority.

The vote of Boston in detail is as follows: Talbot, 20,762; Butler, 25,214; Abbott, 1663; Miner, 148. Butler's majority, 4452.

Wm. Claflin, Republican, is probably re-elected to Congress from the 8th district.

W. W. Crapo, Republican, is probably re-elected to Congress from the 1st district.

B. W. Harris, Republican, is re-elected to Congress from the 2d district by a large majority.

A Worcester special says W. W. Rice, Republican, carries the 9th Congressional district by probably 3000 majority. Selwyn Z. Bowman, Republican, is elected from the 5th Congressional district by 2000 majority over the Greenback candidate.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The Republicans Sweep the State, and Have the Governor and Legislature.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 5.

Reports from 160 towns, indicate the election of Natt Head, Republican, as Governor by the people, by somewhere in the vicinity of 1000 majority. There are 266 towns and wards yet to be heard from, and there is a falling off in the aggregate vote of the State of from 1200 to 1600. As far as returned the House stands 89 Republicans, 60 Democrats, and six Greenbackers. The Republicans claim that they have from 25 to 85 majority. The results in Congressional Districts not known.

CONNECTICUT.

A Complete Revolution.

THE LEGISLATURE REPUBLICAN.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 5.

The Evening Post has returns from one hundred and forty-eight towns at 11.15, which give Andrews, 45,335; Hubbard, 43,191; Atwater, Greenback, 7006; Baldwin probably 1055. The Republicans elect Hawley, Wait and Miles to Congress. The Republicans will have the legislature by 35 majority, and as there is no election by the people the Republican ticket will be elected by the legislature.

The election this year will go to the legislature, there being no majority on the popular vote.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Solid for the Democrats.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 5.

Returns from all portions of the State show heavy Democratic gains. Governor Hampton and the present State officers are re-elected without opposition. Gilman, Democrat, is claimed to have beaten Smalls, colored Republican, nearly 6000.

In the First district the indications are that Richardson, Democrat, is elected over Rainy, colored, Republican, by a small majority. In the Second or Charleston district the vote was very heavy and close with the chances favoring the election of O'Connor, Democrat, over Mackey, white Republican.

ILLINOIS.

Republican Gain of Two Congressmen.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5, Midnight.

Returns from the Congressional districts of this State, although incomplete, seem to show the Republicans have gained two representatives—namely, Davis, in the Second district, and Thomas, in the Eighteenth. If these figures hold good, the Congressional delegation from Illinois in the next Congress will stand: Republicans, 13; Democrats 6. Thomas and Davis replace Hartzel and Harrison, the present members.

NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 5.

Davis, Democrat, carries the Fourth district by a majority estimated at 1800. The Second district is closer, the chances favor Kitchen, Democrat. In the Third district, Waddell, Democrat, has a majority, estimated at 500. In the Fifth, Scales, Democrat, wins by a majority of 2000. In the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth, Democrats are certainly elected with no opposition. The election was quiet with a small vote.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.

The returns, as far as received, indicate the election of Congressmen as follows: First district, Gibson, Democrat; Second, Ellis, Democrat; Third, Acklen, Democrat; Fourth, Elam, Democrat; Sixth, Robertson, Democrat.

The Democrats claim three-fourths of the legislature and the entire Congressional delegation.

GEORGIA.

Reelection of A. H. Stephens.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 5.

The vote in the Eighth district is light. Alexander H. Stephens is reelected to Congress without opposition.

The later returns indicate that Henry Persons, Democrat, is elected over H. R. Harris, the present member, by 500 to 1000 majority, both Democrats. Persons is inclined to the Greenbackers.

DELAWARE.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 5.

John W. Hall, Democrat, is elected Governor, Edward L. Martin, Democrat, is elected to Congress. The Republicans ran no candidate for either of the above offices, the only opposition being Greenbackers.

MISSISSIPPI.

VICKSBURG, Nov. 5.

This election in this city was devoid of excitement with almost a solid vote for Chalmers for Congress. As far as received the returns indicate the success of the Democrats throughout the state.

FLORIDA.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 5.

The Democrats claim Hull's election by 800 majority and the Republicans say they cannot form an opinion from the meagre returns. The result doubtless will be very close. Reports from all over the state show a very quiet election.

Boating at Harvard.—Conditions of a Race With Cornell.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.

At a dinner given last evening by the Harvard University to this year's "eight," which was largely attended, it was decided to recommend the university to arrange for a race with Cornell if the crew from that College will consent to row at New London, but not at Owasco Lake. This course is rendered necessary by the fact that the meeting took a favorable view of the proposition to send a crew to England; for if that were done the Harvard crew would not have time to go further from home than New London. The sense of many present seemed to be that it was necessary to row both Cornell and Columbia before going to England. The proposition to row Columbia is also favorably entertained. The matter will, however, be left to the decision of the whole college, that course being necessary to make the proceedings regular, there appearing to be reason to believe that the question will be decided affirmatively.

The Montgomery Explosion.—Trees Cut Down by the Flying Boiler.—Narrow Escapes.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 5.

This morning at 5 o'clock the stock boiler of Walker's paper mill, in Montgomery, Orange county, exploded. The upper half of the boiler was thrown a hundred yards, cutting off trees and missing by a few inches D. L. Waring's dwelling. The debris of the boilerhouse was thrown high in the air, and in descending crushed the roof of an adjoining dwelling and fell near an unoccupied bed. Six persons were in the mill at the time of the explosion, of whom A. L. Young, a workman, was the only one injured and he but slightly. The damage is estimated at $5,000.

The Vatican and Russia.—Break in the Negotiations.—Papal Diplomacy in Armenia.

ROME, Nov. 5.

The negotiations between the Vatican and Russia have been stopped, as the attitude of Russia affords no hope of a satisfactory result. The Pope will probably issue his protest soon against the violence which the Roman Catholics of Poland endure from the Russian authorities.

The Vatican, apprehending a Russian preponderance in the East, is endeavoring to bring back the Armenian Separatists to allegiance to Rome.

An Imperial Party in Peril.—Wreck of Their Yacht on the Black Sea.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 5.

The imperial yacht Livadia left Livadia on the 2d instant for Odessa, having on board the Grand Duke Sergius, son of the Czar, and suite. The yacht was swamped during a fog and heavy gale, but all the passengers and crew were safely landed. The yacht was afterward thrown on rocks and will probably go to pieces.

Trouble With Federal Supervisors.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.

At the opening of the polls at 6 o'clock this morning, when it was scarcely light, a slight disturbance occurred at the Third precinct of the Seventeenth ward between the judges and supervisors of election in regard to the custody of the ballot-box. There were present in the room the two United States Supervisors and United States Deputy Marshal Wright, the two Judges and Clerk and four citizens, in all, ten persons. During the wrangle over the ballot-box, a pistol shot was fired, and Deputy Marshal Wright was struck in the side, the pistol ball making a slight flesh wound. The police arrested Murphy, a Democratic Judge of Election, United States Deputy Marshal Wright and a citizen named Busey, who were taken before the judge and released on bail. In other wards five Judges of Election have been arrested by order of the Supervisor. In these cases the Judges refused to admit United States Deputy Marshals in the room.

New York Items.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.

Large transactions in four per cents. are reported. One of the city banks' sale alone the past three days aggregate several millions. Many sales are looked for during November and December.

The holder of a policy in the Globe Mutual Life Insurance Company applied yesterday for a receiver of the Company, charging that the heavy losses and mismanagement by the Company impair the value of her policy.

Condition of Mr. Sothern.

LONDON, Nov. 5.

Mr. E. A. Sothern, the actor, is said to be not seriously ill. He will probably play at Liverpool next week.

Release of a Fenian.

LONDON, Nov. 5.

Thomas Ahearne, the last of the English Fenian prisoners, has been released.

PERSONALS.

.....Mr. J. L. Stoddard's lectures promise to be very popular.

.....Samuel J. Tilden has sent his check for $250 to the Catholic cathedral fair in New York city.

.....Jefferson Davis and his wife are both in feeble health. The death of their son was a severe blow to them.

.....Mrs. Louise Chandler Moulton is about to write American literary letters for The Athenæum of London.

.....Mrs. Mary A. Denison of Washington, who has realized nearly $15,000 from the 200,000 copies sold of "That Husband of Mine," is soon going to publish another book.

.....Mrs. Sarah Rogers King, widow of the late James G. King of New York, and daughter of Archibald Gracie, once a famous merchant prince of New York, died on Sunday aged eighty-nine years.

.....Prince Bismarck has arrived in Berlin to attend the marriage of his daughter with Count Rantzau, which was to take place today. The Prince will then proceed to Varzin to remain till Christmas.

.....Remenyi's real name is Hoffman. He changed it after the revolution in 1848, during which he fought under Kossuth against the Austrians. The word Remenyi is Hungarian for the German hoffnung, or hope. So he changed Hoffman into Hoffnung, and then translated that into Hungarian.

.....Twelve years ago Deacon Benson of Fort Wayne, Ind., a man then 48 years old, was worth $300,000. He speculated, lost money, became a passenger conductor, then a saloon keeper, then a street car driver, then a pauper. Last week he died in the hospital and was buried in the Potter's Field.

.....Dean Stanley received about forty Baptist clergyman of New York and vicinity in the parlors of Mr. Cyrus W. Field in New York Monday. Rev. Dr. Thomas Armitage read an address in which he expressed the esteem in which the Dean is held by his denomination. The delegation present did not officially represent the whole Baptist Church of this country, but Dr. Armitage thought he gave utterance to the sentiment universally entertained by his sect for the eminent English churchman. The prayers and good wishes of the Baptists of America would follow him across the sea. Dean Stanley replied in a brief address, eulogizing the Baptists of England and America. No denomination, he said, could be contemptible which had presented to the world such men as John Bunyan, Robert Hall and Havelock.

JUST WHAT YOU MIGHT EXPECT.

About two weeks ago, as the overland train was passing Cheyenne, the attention of the passengers was attracted by the lamentation of a poor Irish emigrant, whose berth had been robbed during the night, and every penny of his scanty savings stolen, and whose family would, therefore, arrive beggars in a strange land. The charitable passengers at once began a subscription, which finally amounted to something over $250. When the money had been handed to the sufferer, a pious, plausible-looking man, dressed in black and adorned with a white cravat, drew him aside at one of the stopping places, and said:

"My poor man, I am truly sorry for you: Your sad case touches me deeply. I am myself provided with this world's goods, however, and so will give you $250 more. Here is a $500 gold note. Give me the $250 you have, and keep the rest. May heaven bless you!"

The poor Irishman did as requested, with many blessings on the generous stranger, who insisted that his gift should not be made known. When the passengers reached this side of the bay the pious looking philanthrophist was nowhere to be found, he having evidently gotten off at Oakland, for reasons of his own.

The next morning the emigrant repaired to a bank to get his note changed. The teller picked up the bill and began narrowly examining it.

"There—is nothing wrong with the bill, is there?" gasped the poor fellow.

(Now the clever reader has seen all along what was going to happen. He has read lots of just such incidents as this. It is the old—old story. Well we'll see about that.)

"Nothing in the world is the matter with it," said the teller quietly, and he handed the man 50 tens. That ended it.—[San Francisco News Letter.

A full-bearded grandfather recently had his beard shaved off, showing a clean face for the first time for a number of years. At the dinner table his three-year-old granddaughter noticed it, gazed long with wondering eye, and finally ejaculated, "Grandfather, whose head you got on?"

ABOUT HORSES.

His well-shaped, delicate ears are capable of being moved separately in every direction, and every movement is full of meaning and in sympathy with the eye. The eye is prominent, full, and large, and placed laterally, so that he can see behind him without turning his head, his heels being his principal weapon of defence; his nostrils are large, open and flexible, and his lips fleshy, though thin, and exquisitely mobile and sensitive. The large, open nostril is essential to him, as a horse breathes solely and entirely through it, being physically incapable of breathing through his mouth, as a valve in the throat actually precludes him from so doing; hence the mouth of a horse, without a bridle in it, is opened only for purposes of eating or biting, but never from excitement or from exhaustion, like that of most other quadrupeds, except the deer species. The lips are, perhaps, even more characteristic, they are his hands as well as part of his mouth, and the horse and others of his family alone use them in this way. The ox, the sheep, the goat, the deer, the giraffe above all, and, in fact, we believe all graminivorous animals except the horse, either bite their food directly with the teeth, or grasp and gather it with the tongue, which is prehensile, and gifted with more or less power of prolongation; but the horse's tongue has no such function, and, therefore, no such powers, as these services are all performed in his case by the lips; and no horseman who has let a favorite horse pick up small articles of food from the palm of his hand, can have failed to be struck with the extreme mobility and also the sensibility and delicacy of touch, with which the lips are endowed.

Now, all these physical characteristics are patent, without any knowledge of anatomy, to any one who applies intelligent observation to an animal which he sees daily; but in pictures both by mediæval and modern painters, what wonderful libels on horse-nature do we perpetually see. He is commonly represented as an animal either with human or elsewhere small piggy eyes, with a blunt, solid nose, with two small, round holes for nostrils, with an open, foolish mouth, with a long body like a lobster, straight shoulders, and round, shapeless legs, and this not only in the case of the old Italian masters, who seem to have lost, with the loss of Greek tradition, all sympathy with, and appreciation of the horse, but also in the case of English painters of eminence of the present day in this horse-loving country. Let the reader, for instance, turn to the large illustrated edition of Tennyson's poems, and to other books illustrated by leading artists, whom it would be invidious to mention, and then let him say whether the above description is an exaggeration of what he generally finds.—[English Art Magazine.

A NEW USE FOR ROSES.

Most persons would agree that the rose has enough in its perfume and beauty to sustain its pretensions to be queen of flowers; but it seems that the rose can be made exquisite also to a third sense. Not long ago a confection of rose petals was served to Emperor William. It was the gift of an English lady, and came from Alexandria, where the rose thus prepared is considered a strengthening as well as delicate dish, but Egyptian cooks are said to be the only ones who understand the art of preparing it, and the right species of rose for this purpose grows only in that region. A Smyrna house, however, exports a jelly of roses. Perhaps research might find a way of converting other flowers besides Eastern roses into delicate food. In that case, cookery and floriculture would strike up a closer alliance than it now seems possible for them to have.

San Francisco no longer employs ignorant young girls as substitute teachers, but has a regular force of twenty-two ladies who report at the rooms of the Board of Education every morning, and are sent out to various schools on the reception of telegraphic signals. They are paid $3 per day for actual service in a primary class, $4 in a grammar class and $4.50 for remaining at the office half a day to answer calls. The allowance of $4.50 is made only when they report at the office and are not sent out to some school. With this scale of wages their annual salary is somewhat less than that of the regular teachers.

It is hard to believe it, but it is told as a solemn fact that the new Covington (Ky.) Post Office, for which $300,000 was appropriated, has been completed for $250,000.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BEWARE OF CHEAP EXCITANTS.

And use, if you need a tonic stimulant and alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The liquors of commerce, even when they are not adulterated, fail to produce more than a temporary exhilaration usually followed by a depressing reaction anything but beneficial to a weakly constitution. Not only do the potent botanic ingredients combined with the alcoholic of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters minister to the health and vigor of those who use it, but the basis—pure old rye, the finest and most salubrious liquor distilled, is no mean promoter of a healthful condition of the digestive organs. Its presence in the Bitters is essential to preserve their vegetable constituents from fermentation, and it unquestionably augments their remedial value. Few medicinal preparations of a proprietary nature have ever received such strong commendations from medical men. nov3-1w-nkj

AN ASTONISHING FACT.

A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all druggists on the western continent. Sold by James H. Taylor, Druggist. oct4-eod-nkj

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English, sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 18 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 00 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the whole sum is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent, extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1878.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency Charles C. Van Zandt, Governor of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.

In accordance with ancient custom and with a devout consciousness of the blessings which a kind Heavenly Father has bestowed upon all our people, I appoint THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF NOVEMBER, INST., as a day for THANKSGIVING, and I request the inhabitants of this State to pause in their avocations, and at their places of public worship and in their homes to offer heartfelt thanks to Almighty God for the bountiful harvests that crown the year with plenty, the health and happiness that brighten our Commonwealth, the business prosperity that is dawning upon our land, and for all his limitless love and mercy.

In our pleasant family reunions may we remember the poor and the friendless with that practical charity which blesses alike the giver and the receiver.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State to be affixed at Providence, this fourth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, of the founding of the State the two hundred and forty-third, and of Independence the one hundred and third.

(L. S.)

CHARLES C. VAN ZANDT.

By the Governor:
JOSHUA M. ADDEMAN, Secretary of State.

The long agony is over.

A cheerless day for Ben Butler.

The old Bay State is still right side up with care.

The Minnesota doesn't sail yet. We are in no haste to have her go.

The Democratic Boston Post says it was something of a shower yesterday.

The city of Providence now has 40,000 Catholics, making about two fifths of the total population.

This is a cold day for Ben Butler and his friend Denis Kearney to be rowing up Salt River. But they have gone.

If now people will bid good-by to politics and attend to business, we shall see better times. The time has come in which to do so.

Let the Republicans rejoice, they have made great gains in the North. Let the Democrats be happy also; they have won in the South. Hurrah!

Now let it be understood that Benjamin F. Butler of Massachusetts is a Democrat. He has returned to his first love. Just as the twig is bent the tree is inclined.

The New York Herald says:—The extraordinary activity in the cotton goods line at Fall River during the week is one of the cheering business signs of the times.

What is Boston coming to? It gave Kearney the most cordial greeting which he has received in the East, and now votes by a respectable plurality for Ben Butler. Alas for cultured Boston!

Inquirers for real estate are becoming more frequent than for some time. We know of one man who has a vacant lot for sale who has had three applicants within the past two days, all of whom are likely to purchase somewhere in the city and build residences for their own use.

Over sixty persons in Louisiana, engaged in securing the result for the Republicans in the presidential campaign, have been given offices by the President, their salaries aggregating $175,000 per annum.

Now that is wonderful. A certain class of newspapers keep the paragraph going as though it involved somebody in great wrong. Let us see; every man who voted for President Hayes was "engaged in securing his election" and the substance of the charge is that when the President proceeded to fill the offices in different states he made most of his selections from the Republican party. In Louisiana "over sixty persons" of that political faith have received appointments. How many there are in other states we are not informed.

If the two mosquitoes in the ark had become impertinent and bloodthirsty and lit on Noah's nose fifteen times a minute, the probabilities are that about the second night out he would have jumped out of bed, lit the gas, got a towel and frescoed the ceiling of the boat with their gore. P. S.—Wish he had.—[Norristown Herald.

THE ELECTION.

The election yesterday shows great Republican gains in the North, and almost equal advances of the Democrats in the South. The old antagonism between the two sections is unfortunately being revived, but nothing else could be expected from the methods pursued by the dominant race in the late rebellious state. A "solid South" will be sure to create a "solid North," the same as would a "solid East" as against a "solid West." In New York, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Illinois and Michigan, the people have made an earnest protest against the shot gun policy. Senator Conkling is sure of a reelection. Tammany is badly routed, Barnum in Connecticut is overthrown, Butler is swamped and the rising tidal wave has swept, thus, over the free states. In South Carolina, Swails is defeated and probably Rainey though both hail from strong Republican districts were an honest vote allowed. Similar cases occur in other states where the will of the majority has been thwarted. As was expected the Democrats will have a majority in the next Congress, sufficient to enable them to carry out their policy subject, however, to the veto power of the President.

In Rhode Island the result was all that could be desired. Nelson W. Aldrich is elected in this district by nearly 4000 major ity. L. W. Ballou has about 700 majority over Barnaby, who should not have attempted to run in a district where he does not be long. The Greenbackers have polled a small vote and the Prohibitionists are among the scattering. That party by the bad management of its leaders is in a rapid decline everywhere and unless wiser counsels prevail will soon cease to be.

We are pleased to observe that good order prevailed throughout the country. There was little or no rioting in the cities and nothing to disturb the peace and quiet of the country.

LITTLE COMPTON.

RELIGIOUS.—The Rev. Dr. Taylor, of Providence, occupied the pulpit of the Congregational Church last Sunday.

PERSONAL.—Mr. William S. French sailed on the 2d inst. from Boston in the Cunard steamer Samaria, for Liverpool. He proposes to spend the winter in London.

GLEANINGS AND GOSSIP.

The Providence line to New York has been discontinued for the season, and the steamers Massachusetts and Rhode Island have been transferred to the Stonington line.

At the Alexandra Palace in London the other day was a bicycle race, in which a rider named John Keen covered 25 miles in 1 h. 20 min. 38 sec., the fastest time on record.

The price of newspaper wrappers will be reduced on the first of January next twenty per cent below the present rates; and wrappers spoiled in direction may be redeemed in stamps.

The power of the national bank to issue small bills, below $5 in amount, has always been limited to one-sixth of their circulation and never has approached that figure, as officers do not like to do so much signing. Even this authority expires with the resumption of specie payments, so that after January 1 the national banks issue no more notes below $5, and it is said to be the intention of Secretary Sherman to make room for silver dollars by withdrawing some of the $1 and $2 greenbacks, of which the usual circulation is about $50,000,000.

Millie Christine, "the two-headed nightingale" who is exhibiting through the country is really a wonder. She is a quadroon of pleasing features, born in North Carolina in 1858, and having two heads and busts, and four arms and legs, uniting in one well developed body. To all interests she is two girls, being mentally and physically separated except where the bodies meet, and Christine being a little plumper than Millie. They are said to have rich voices, a soprano and contralto, and sing and play duets, dance gracefully, and converse upon different topics at the same time, one perhaps talking in French to one person and the other in English or German to a second.

It affords us much pleasure to learn from a score or two of our exchanges that the writer of these paragraphs has fallen heir to $30,000 by the death of a Dutch uncle in Holland. It was entirely unexpected. But the announcement contains a few inaccuracies which it may be as well to correct. 1. A person in this country never inherits a fortune of less than $500,000 by the death of a relative in the old country. That is the regulation amount. 2. Our Dutch uncle in Holland was not worth $30,000. 3. He is not dead. 4. We never had a Dutch uncle in Holland. With the exception of these trifling errors, the report that we have inherited $30,000 in the manner stated is true enough. The congratulations of our friends are worth more than the flat fortune.—[Norristown Herald.

STARVING ON BROADWAY.

A woman, about twenty-four years of age, dressed in deep mourning, was found in a fainting condition yesterday afternoon on Broadway. Mr. H. L. Powers, proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel, had her conveyed into one of the parlors of the hotel where restoratives were applied. The woman gave her name as Ella Willingford and her residence at No 5 Delancey street. She said she had not eaten anything in three days. Her husband went to New Orleans about a month ago, where he was employed as groom, and he was about sending for his wife when he was taken sick with yellow fever and died. The news of his death prostrated the poor woman and an additional burden was placed upon her shoulders by the birth of a child. She had not entirely recovered from her illness when the pangs of hunger drove her into the street in search of food. Her two children, a boy two years of age and the baby, were in the meantime left in a cold and cheerless room. When the woman had told her pitiable story Mr Powers headed a subscription list for her, and several of the guests also gave her sums of money. Before she could realize her sudden good fortune, a bountiful repast was laid before her, and thus provided for she almost bounded from the presence of her benefactors to hurry to the relief of her famishing children.—[N. Y. Herald, 5th.

A minister was telling his Sunday school all about Samson and his exploits. "With what remarkable weapon did Samson slay his enemies?" He asked. No one knew. In order to coax the school a little he tapped his jaw and said, "Children what is this?" It was enough. Torpid memories were quickened, and the victory was won. A dear little boy, who, if he keeps the promise of his childhood, will some day be a candidate for office, cried out, "I know—I know, sir." Elated at the success of his plan, the minister turned to him and said, "Well, my little man, stand up and tell the whole school what it is." He rose with great dignity and replied: "It's the jawbone of an ass, sir!"

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The beautiful snow was not announced.

—The storm signal was ordered up this morning.

—The Hatfield girl gives no reasonable excuse for her mysterious disappearance.

—There was but one session of the schools today on account of the storm and examinations.

—John Bridges will be janitor of the new quarters of the Young Men's Christian Association.

—Officers Curtis and Freeborn have been elected policemen for the balance of the municipal year.

—Mr. W. J. H. Allman, collector of taxes of this city, is the veteran office holder of Newport, having entered upon his duties in 1859.

—There will be a special meeting of the City Council on Monday to receive and act upon the plans to be submitted for the proposed sewerage.

—Capt. K. R. Breese's brother-in-law, ex-Governor Curtin, was elected Congressman from the Key Stone State yesterday on the Democratic ticket.

—By the courtesy of Mr. Tony Pastor, Miss Lulu Delmay and H. A. Archer, character sketchists, will appear in the Baby Benson Parlor Entertainment.

—Members of St. John's and St. Paul's lodges of Masons made a friendly visit last night to Eureka lodge of Portsmouth. They went in one of Tennant's omnibuses.

—The vote in this city yesterday was very light. Over 1,800 votes were cast when Mayor Bedlow was elected the first time, while less than 600 were polled yesterday.

—Mr. Cooper, who was elected Mayor of New York, is one of our well known summer residents. Mr. L. P. Morton was elected to Congress beating Congressman Willis.

—Such rare musical talent as we are to have tonight in Miss Adelaide Phillips and Sig. Brignoli, and others, with support of the full Germania orchestra and chorus should fill the Opera House.

—A new arrangement of the seats in Odd Fellows' hall will be made immediately so as to give more room between the chairs and to make a centre aisle in addition to the side aisles which will remain as now. The improvement will be appreciated by the public.

—The new rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, corner of Thames and Church streets, will be formally opened to the public tomorrow evening with addresses and music. Several prominent people and the choirs of the churches have been invited to be present.

—The florists are busily getting ready for their winter season. Judging from the rose beds and large quantity of carnations at Mr. Geraghty's greenhouses on Cottage place, we should say that he was preparing to supply all the neighboring cities as well as our own. The flower industry in the winter is one of our greatest, and it would probable surprise many people to know the number of roses that go from here daily to New York and Boston.

THE ELECTION IN NEWPORT.

The election passed off in this city with unusual quietness. There was no excitement and in most of the wards but little interest manifested in the result. This indifference grew out of the feeling among all classes that the issue was certain, and was not likely to be affected by anything that could be done here. The following was the result in the several wards:

	1	2	3	4	5	Total.
Aldrich	75	192	125	73	84	549
Davis	70	57	19	29	60	215
Scat.	4	3	1	1	1	10

HELEN POTTER.

The Odd Fellows Lecture Course opened last evening with a full house. Miss Potter has now read in Newport three successive years, and she will always be warmly welcomed. She suffered last night a little embarrassment from having no stage accessories, and, as she herself expressed it, felt herself too near some of her audience to allow of much delusion in her character sketches. Her likeness to Charlotte Cushman, even on an ordinary rostrum, under the full glare of a lighted hall, is very striking, and her acting a remarkable copy of that great actress. She also impersonated John B. Gough and Susan B. Anthony, and in the first part of her program gave some selections not only new to her audience, but read here for the first time. She reads in Lowell tonight and has engagements for four nights in every week of the winter.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.—There was a fair audience at the Opera House last evening to witness the "Unknown." The play is a sensational one and the actors were frequently applauded, John A. Stevens, who fills the title role, being called before the curtain at the close of the second act. The other characters were well taken and the actors were well up in their parts. This troupe, we believe, returns in a few weeks, when they will be greeted by a larger house.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

New York had the first organized political meeting on Sunday ever held in the city. It was composed of Germans, and indorsed the anti-Tammany ticket.

Somebody asked Gen. Sherman about something "Fighting Joe" Hooker said in a recent interview. "Don't say anything about that," he replied. "The fact is, Hooker is a little way off here," tapping his head in a significant way. "Everybody who knows him pays no attention to what he says."

Mr. Redfield of the Cincinnati Commercial, who has kept close track of South Carolina politics, writes from Columbia that "there is a sensible diminution of bitterness between the races. The contrast is so great, when I remember the campaign here two years ago, that I cannot write without mentioning it again and again."

THE ENTERING WEDGE FOR CHAOS.

Property is alarmed at the threats of the Greenbackers to upset the present values and try new experiments. And its alarm is justified by what is vaguely seen behind this Greenback movement. The leaders do not hesitate to declare that the attack on the national banks, for instance, is only an incident in the march of the revolutionary party. Behind this comes Butler and Kearney, and an irresponsible crowd of communists and theorists who mean to uproot society itself. Smash the national banks, pay off the national debt in greenbacks, change the government into a commune, and then make a rush for general chaos. The entering wedge in the greenback heresy.—[From the Hartford Courant.

JEWELS AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

The exhibition and fabrication of imitating jewelry, particularly that of pearls, is astonishing good, and M. Houlline's cutting of diamonds is amusing; but what we examine with most pleasure are the vitrines, brilliant with real jewelry, in the reserved gallery. Diamonds, sapphires, emeralds and pearls are in such profusion and of so exquisite a quality that we are absolutely dazzled. M. Jules Porge's exhibits a diamond fastened in iron ore, the only one ever found in this condition. M. Vanderheim exhibits one cut in the form of a lantern, mounted on a filipatian gold stand. Near by is the largest known diamond, but it is bad in color, and far from perfect. M. Rouvenat exhibits Conte Branicki's famous sapphire valued at two million five hundred thousand francs, but notwithstanding its size, it is not half as much admired as a full set of sapphires and diamonds bought by Miss Mackey from our famous Boucheron for eight hundred and fifty thousand francs. This same lady has bought no end of magnificent jewelry, and the exhibitors have more reason to be thankful for her presence in Paris than for that of all the crowned heads put together. A diamond necklace has been bought from Dumoret for the first prize in the gigantic lottery, got up by a government which discountenances lotteries and will not allow public gambling. Robert, Vaubourzier, Vesnet and ten many more to name, vie with each other in magnificence of jewels and beauty of setting. Massin exhibits his invention of diamond lace. Imagine a tissue of fine silver with designs in brilliants, almost as flexible as point lace, about an inch wide and eighteen thousand francs a yard. M. Massin begged me to examine it, adding: "Ladies who dress with richness and elegance will find great economy in using this lace as trimming, as it can serve an indefinite number of times and will always be beautiful." "You are perfectly right," I replied, handing him back the sample, "and I have no doubt your diamond lace will soon become a necessary object of toilette." Herau exhibits something of the same kind, point lace embroidered with pearls and diamonds, beautiful certainly, but less so than the preceding. The house of Bapst exhibits an admirable set of diamonds, two of emeralds and one of sapphires. M. L. Falize Fils sends translucent cloisonné, made only by them, and Mr. E. Lucy a collection of jewelry of the Japanese style. A great many objects have been bought at the exhibition for the famous lottery (one franc the ticket, and little probability of drawing anything). About two million of tickets have already been disposed of, but as "l'appetit vient en mangeant," it is likely our ambitious minister will endeavor to double the number before giving us the satisfaction of knowing we have drawn blanks! A day or two since a wag, taking advantage of the absence of the guardian, pasted a large placard—"donne pour la loterie"—upon the vitrine of the crown jewels. When discovered, the indignation of the sergents de ville is easier to imagine than describe; but the culprit could not be found, and they had to content themselves with tearing off the hoax.—[Boston Advertiser.

A typical story illustrating the trials of inventors is told by the Springfield Republican, being the experience of J. C. Birdsall, who has been over twenty years at law, fighting infringements on his patent for a machine to thrash clover, and, after spending $150,000 in fees, is worse off pecuniarily than when he began. When Mr. Birdsall was granted his patent in 1858 he was a well to-do farmer at West Henrietta, N. Y., and had 284 acres of his own, which he mortgaged for money to introduce his invention. His factories were three times burned out, besides being kept in almost continual litigation against infringers, but though he always gained his case the cost has been so great that he is now $35,000 in debt. His patent has been extended for an additional period of seven years by act of Congress, and he is now moving for a further extension that he may reap some benefit from the invention before he dies.

One gentleman, an officer in one of her Majesty's scientific corps, wrote to the papers to explain that the ruptures in the White Sea cables were due to the fact, which he claimed to have discovered, that the world was growing bigger, stretching itself, so to speak, and bursting its bounds. This suggestion is on a par with that of the lady who, after the failure to lay the 1858 Atlantic cable, wrote to the Times suggesting that cables instead of being under-sea should be over-sea, and proposing Gibraltar Rock, the Peak of Teneriffe, and the Andes as convenient points of suspension.—[Chamber's Journal.

CITY COUNCIL.

The regular meeting of the City Council was held last evening. Mr. Bull presided in the Board of Aldermen until the arrival of the Mayor, when that gentleman took his accustomed seat. Several of the members were late, but finally all, with the exception of Alderman Brown, were in their seats.

Most of the business was of a routine character and was transacted in a perfunctory manner. The Finance Committee made its fifth report for the municipal year, showing a total expenditure for the month of $25,258.59.

A petition was presented from Wm. P. Congdon and a large number of others for a belt to be located near the new school house on Cranston avenue to be connected with the fire alarm. It was referred to the Committee on Fire Department.

A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of two special policemen to serve until June next, to act on the permanent force.

It was voted to place two new gas lamps on Wellington avenue and to connect the same with the gas main.

A petition from Gov. Van Zandt and others for a gas lamp on the corner of Kay street and Howard avenue was received and referred to Committee on Gas and Lamps.

A similar petition from John F. Scott and others for lamp to be located at corner of Thames and Connection streets was referred to same committee.

Richard Golden and others asked for a lamp at the corner of Middleton avenue and East Bowery street which petition was disposed of in the same way.

It was voted, all the preliminaries having been complied with, to constitute New street a public highway to be known hereafter as Summer street. It extends from Broadway to Malbone avenue.

A communication from the Trustees of the People's Library announcing the resignation of Oliver Read, and the election of John S. Coggeshall to that board was presented. It was voted to approve the appointment of Mr. Coggeshall.

A communication from the Asylum Commissioners concerning the insurance of the city property in their charge was presented. The Commissioners asked for instructions, and it was voted to conform to the action previously taken, not to renew existing policies.

The Committee to whom was referred the communication of ex-Mayor Slocum asking an investigation into charges understood to be made by Mayor Bedlow against the previous administration, reported. They referred Mr. Slocum to the City Documents where it will be seen that Mayor Bedlow makes full retraction. This, it was thought, would be satisfactory to all concerned.

Petitions were presented from Abigail L. Chamberlain, J. A. C. Stacy, Samuel R. Honey and the estate of the late Mary F. Wyeth for remission of taxes and referred to the assessors.

F. B. Porter, as agent for the estate of Geo. Griswold Gray, presented a paper setting forth that the great number of horses and carriages kept standing on Bellevue avenue near the property of the late Mr. Gray greatly impairs its value, and prevents its sale, and even occupancy. He therefore asked that some measures be taken by which "the nuisance" may be abated. It was referred to the Committee on Police.

A resolution was presented providing for repairs in the engine house of company No. 3. It was lost in the Board of Aldermen by a tie vote, some questions having been raised of a technical character.

The Committee on Streets and Highways reported favorably on the petition to have Narragansett avenue covered with crushed stone; also in favor of continuing the curbing of Warner street from Spruce to Pond avenue. They reported adversely on the propositions to repair Pelham street, to widen Bliss road and to repair Green Lane. Report concurred in.

A petition from Wm. H. Rogers and others for repairs on Gibbs avenue was referred to the Committee on Highways.

It was voted to accept Rhode Island avenue as a public highway, between Catherine and Francis streets.

BEAUTIES OF NATURE IN ARIZONA.

Notwithstanding the entire absence of timber or verdure of any kind upon the mountains along the Colorado River, there are ever changing objects of beauty and interest, and the longer and more studiously you gaze upon them, the more completely are you lost in admiration of them. In the evening, in the interval just before and immediately after the decline of the great orb of day, these earth-giants point up their ragged edges and grotesque columns against a canopy that is a marvel of celestial coloring. At this time of the year no clouds fall majestically over the mountain tops. From sunrise until within an hour of sunset the imperial dome seems like a great sapphire suspended over the world. Then the eastern mountains and the horizon above assume a most exquisite tint of something between purple and maroon, while the elevations on the west and the horizon above color up in blue and gold. A few minutes after sunset the whole heavens and mountains upon either side assume a lavender hue. So perfect and so delicate are the tracings of these mountain outlines against the sky at this period of the evening, that the entranced vision follows them as readily as if they were just so many artistic pencillings upon map or parchment. Yet, all th a piles in comparison with the mirage on a clear morning, which cuts up these same mountains into castles, cathedrals, fortresses, esplanades, gardens, forests, and every other imaginable thing, or topples them over, or suspends them in the air at will. One can watch the beautiful effects of mirage in this country with more delightful avidity than any other one thing that can be presented.—[Correspondence of the San Francisco Bulletin.

A medical writer in the Geneva Courier cautions people against the use of well water, unless it is first thoroughly boiled. The extreme drouth has lowered all wells, and many of them are loaded with organic matter and utterly unfit for use. In cities and large villages most wells are in close proximity to drains and vaults. More or less fluid escapes from these through the porous soil and poisons all pure water which receives it.

An Iowa farmer recently displayed great coolness and presence of mind under trying circumstances. He was actively engaged in fighting a prairie fire when he observed that the flames had crept around him and entirely cut off his retreat. He quickly took in the situation, and running to a place where the grass was thinnest threw himself down upon his face and awaited the coming of the flames. The fire rapidly swept over him and onward to the thicker grass beyond, of course setting his clothes instantly in a blaze. When the flames passed he quickly sprang to his feet, tore off his blazing garments and escaped with a blistered back, neck, face and hands.

THE WAY TO ASK FOR AN INCREASE OF SALARY.

The adopted tongue of the Hindoos who study the English language is often more labored than exact. One of them in the government employ recently wrote to the proper officer requesting more pay, and expressed himself in the following laconic style: "The late decrease of the pa to my post of gate-clerkship has made a considerable effect even to the bare living of ourselves, so that life is seemed no better than a torment. And I don't know what to do and whom to complain, and where to harbor myself in. At last it is the inmate and intuitive impulse, as it were, in me to look upon your honor as a father and patron to keep myself under your wings and to hatch warm comforts to my cold bosom. I have the honor to be, sir, your most obedient servant."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

Consumers should bear in mind that the commendable "Royal" is now the only Baking Powder in the market made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine-growing district of France. And old experienced housekeepers writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much farther and works so much better, that its economy to use it. Another says she uses the powder in puddings, cakes, and all sorts of pastry, wholly without eggs, and that it makes the only biscuit her dyspeptic husband can eat. Approved by the New York Board of Health, and by Physicians everywhere.

Dr. R. DANA HAYES, State Assayer of Massachusetts, reports after making an analysis of Royal Baking Powder,—"That the materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome."

The "Royal Baking Powder" is taking the place of Soda, Saleratus, Cream Tartar and Yeast, on account of its superiority, Convenience, and Wholesomeness. ☞ SOLD ONLY IN CANS.

SUNDRIES.

Another Arctic expedition returned. That is about the most they do—when they are lucky.

The time when a man sighs for more responsibility is when the toastmaster calls him up.—[Keokuk Constitution.

He saw a negro smoking a new meerschaum. "Gracious!" he exclaimed, "why, how the pipe is coloring him!"

Why was Goliah very much surprised when David slung the stone at him? Because such a thing never entered his head before.

"I am inclined to believe," said a fop to a lady who had refused to sing, "you are fishing for compliments." "Oh! no," replied she, "I never fish in so shallow a stream."

They were having a family set-to, and she asked him if there was anything in the past he would like to recall, and he heartlessly said: "Yes; the day you first refused me."

Doting mother: "Yes, I shall be happy to give you the wages you ask, but I shall expect you to love the dear children." Nurse. "I shall be happy to do so, ma'am; but of course that would be an extra."—[Funny Folks.

THE WILD BEASTS' RENDEZVOUS.

When water becomes scarce in these thirsty plains, the whole of the wild animals that inhabit them congregate around any pool that may be left, for with very few exceptions all have to drink once in twenty-four hours. The lions, which follow the game, are thus led to these drinking-places, not only to assuage their thirst, but to satisfy their hunger. To watch one of these pools at night, as I did in the northern Massara country, is a grand sight, and one never to be forgotten. The naturalist and the sportsmen can here see sights that will astonish them, and cause them to marvel at the wonderful instincts possessed by the animal kingdom. That the Creator has ordered all things well, we know, but the minute details to which they have been reduced is seldom noted except by those who live not the life of the busy trading world, but such as wander into those portions of the earth undisturbed by the presence of man.

At such watering places the small antelopes invariably drink first, the larger later on, and with them the zebras and buffaloes. After these come the giraffes, closely followed by rhinoceros, and next the elephant, which never attempts to hide his approach—conscious of his strength but trumpets forth a warning to all whom it may concern that he is about to satisfy his thirst.

The only animal that does not give place to the elephant is the rhinoceros; obstinate, headstrong and pig-like, he may not court danger, but assuredly he does not avoid it. The elephant may drink by his side, but he must not interfere with him, for he is quick to resent an insult, and I am assured that when one of these battles takes place the rhinoceros is invariably the victor. The elephant is large, of gigantic power, but the other far more active, while the formidable horn that terminates his nose is dreadful when used with the force that he has the power to apply to it.

I have been told on trustworthy authority that a rhinoceros, in one of those blind fits of fury to which they are so subject, attacked a large wagon, inserted his horn between the spokes of the wheel, and instantly overturned it, scattering the contents far and wide, and afterward injuring it to such an extent as to render it useless.

The lion is not tied to time in drinking. After it feeds it comes to water, but it would never dare to interfere with the rhinoceros or elephant. Where the buffalo exists in numbers it is the principal prey of the lion; in other localities antelope and chiefly zebra are its food. A strange circumstance connected with the lion is, that it is almost impossible to tell where he is when you hear his voice. When roaring loudly he places his head to the ground, gradually raising it as he diminishes the power of his voice. Although I cannot say that I recognize anything terrible in a lion's voice, many other people do, and I have been in the company of persons who become completely demoralized while it lasted. That this animal's voice makes the earth vibrate is a fact.

FARMERS WHO THINK.

A subscriber on a New Hampshire farm, writing us on a matter of business, remarks that "though a farmer, I could never feel that it was right for me to be a 'mind-ill.' With a very limited school and book education, I have never been able to see why it is not my privilege to observe and think. Sometimes there has come to me, as a revelation, while my hands were guiding my plow and my feet along trod the furrow, some result which I long had sought."

Our friend has told, perhaps without knowing it, the secret of success in his calling. Farmers, as a class, think enough, perhaps, but they do not think progressively,—they think too much in circles. Their minds move, but they move too much around one pivot. Hence their plans, annually, are the same: the same rotation of crops; the same way of plowing and cultivating; the same class of manures; the same breed of stock year after year. There is no change in the farm program. Everything is rutted, and the ruts sink deeper and deeper. There are no experiments made, and hence no progress in practical knowledge, and no improvement in the administration of affairs.

Now this inane way of conducting a landed estate, is folly. To run a New England farm, especially, requires wit. A man must think, and plan, and experiment, and make changes in his management, from year to year, or he will find himself running behindhand. Old soils must be refreshed and invigorated by processes of culture, and applications of new manures. Old crops must be dropped, and new ones planted, to accommodate the state of the soil, and meet the demands of new markets. Infusion of imported blood must be made into the veins of the native stock. In short, the farmers must think, and think progressively, and put the progressiveness of his thinking into practice, if he is to make his labor yield him the needed return. Use your heads more, gentlemen, as the inventor uses his, and you will make many new discoveries as to how to manage your property to the best advantage.—[Golden Rule.

Russian soldiers are sorted as far as possible, according to their size and complexion. Under the Czar Nicholas there was an hussar regiment all made up of dark haired men pitted with smallpox, and another of light-haired men in the same case. There was a regiment whose soldiers all had fine hair, slim figures and fine eyes; and another where swarthy features and coal noses were the rule. These happy assortments have been less strictly adhered to under the present reign, but enough is done in the way of sizing to bring men of different districts into each regiment, and thereby greatly to obviate the risk of mutiny.

For a sick man, who takes his physician along with him, Dean Stanley has managed to cover considerable ground in his six weeks' tour of this country. He has visited New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Montreal and Quebec; has been to Mount Vernon, Niagara, up the Hudson by boat, down the St. Lawrence; has seen Lake Champlain and George, spent two days among the Berkshire hills, and then gone down to Massachusetts Bay and set foot on Plymouth rock. The Dean has thoroughly enjoyed his visits to this country, and is best pleased with New England and New England life.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps has joined the noble army of creed-makers. She has written a creed for a Union Church, which is as follows: "I believe that God so loved the world that he gave his only son, that whosoever believeth on him shall not perish, but shall have everlasting life."

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

CUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, where so many miserable failures, means no doubt, that specific curative properties in this remedy. Dod Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh possesses these properties? The evidence, in the simple, unvarnished testimony from the most expert witnesses in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Now, we offer, in this country, no peculiar residence has each value, directly been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy. Can test in the post office of the proprietors of Sanford's Radical Cure. And with this statement, dedicated not to the public, but to the sick, the suffering, the public is invited to a candid statement. Hence the testimonial is ever positive, represent that a small portion of forms with all for the reason mentioned. The following testimonial testimonial from Henry Adams, Esq., of Veils, Parke & Co. Rapids, is an unsolicited endorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass: Gentlemen,—It is with great pleasure I do it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to testify to the great benefit that I have received from the use of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh. I for a number of years have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies I could hear of without any permanent benefit. I had the disease had grown at last to that state that I was in a miserable condition. I scarcely could hear to speak, my voice was changed, and the cough was severe. Not knowing what to do, I was induced to try the Radical Cure, and have found it the best medicine I ever used. I have taken several bottles and feel that it has done me a world of good. I cough but little, and my voice is almost as good as ever. I shall use the remainder of the bottle, and I feel confident it will cure me. I cannot say too much in favor of your valuable medicine. Very truly yours, HENRY ADAMS, Acworth, N. H., June, 1878.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for all kinds of cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

HALE'S

HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR

FOR THE CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, and all Affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs, leading to Consumption.

This infallible remedy is composed of the Honey of the plant Horehound, in chemical union with Tar-Balm, extracted from the Life Principle of the forest tree Abies Balsamea, or Balm of Gilead.

The Honey of Horehound soothes and scatters all irritations and inflammations, and the Tar-balm cleanses and heals the throat and air passages leading to the lungs. Five additional ingredients keep the organs cool, moist, and in healthful action. Let no prejudice keep you from trying this great medicine of a famous doctor who has saved thousands of lives by it in his large private practice.

N.B.—The Tar-Balm has no bad taste or smell.

PRICES 50 CENTS AND $1 PER BOTTLE.

Great saving to buy large size.
